Council Takes Steps

Wellsville Eyes Street Projects

Wellsville Council Tuesday night ordered resolutions asking the State Highway Department to re-surface sections of two streets and to have a preliminary survey made concerning the relocation of Route 7.

Earl Nelson, deputy director for Division 11 at New Philadelphia, informed Council at its recent meeting it should adopt resolutions asking the state for projects the city wants done.

COUNCIL PREVIOUSLY adopted a resolution asking that Clark Ave. be resurfaced. Nelson, in a letter, informed Council last night that no copy of this resolution is on file in his office and suggested another be adopted and sent to him.

Council also ordered a copy of the old resolution be sent along after Mrs. Margaret Baldwin, clerk, said Nelson indicated the old resolution would give the city a higher priority on the work list.

Councilman William Stroble, street and light chairman, asked to have Wells Ave. included in the request for resurfacing and Council agreed.

At Stroble's suggestion, Council later ordered another resolution requesting the state to continue with a survey that had been started to show the location of new Route 7 through Wellsville.

In other action, Council approved legislation establishing Daylight Saving Time from 2 a.m. April 28 to 2 a.m. Oct. 28.

THE LEGISLATION was up for second reading, but Council passed it under suspension of rules.

Councilman Robert Taggart, water chairman, said his committee met and discussed the installation of a new water line on Buckeye Ave. The line is old and homes in the area have no pressure.

The project is mandatory and Council will have to appropriate the necessary money when the weather permits the work, he commented.

Councilman Dwight MacLean asked Council to have an investigation made of valves on the mains in town. He referred to an incident last week when the service to the entire town had to be shut off to make repairs to a break in a 4-inch main. The valve on the main would not work.

COUNCILMAN Allen Baldwin said "my pet project is an auxiliary water line for the city. This is a good example of what can happen. Council should think very seriously of inquiring for federal aid for an auxiliary line."

Councilman Donald Miller, finance chairman, said April 10 is the deadline for submitting the city's budget at Lisbon. He asked that Stroble and Taggart, committee members, set the date for meetings to work on the finances. He said he will not meet unless both are present. The first meeting was set for Friday night at 7 in the auditor's office. All members of Council were invited.

Miller also raised the question as to why Council is not receiving the monthly mayor's report. Mayor William Daugherty later informed Council the necessary forms are being printed and the reports will be submitted at the next meeting.

Council adopted a motion asking the state to fund the project. (Turn to Page 7, Column 1)

Merchants To Buy 30

New Refuse Receptacles Due For Downtown Area

The East Liverpool Merchants Association approved plans Tuesday to furnish 30 new trash containers for use on sidewalks in the downtown business district.

Meeting in the Chamber of Commerce office, the businessmen's group referred details of the purchase to a committee headed by Harold Allison. The association said it hopes the receptacles will be in place in time for the annual spring cleanup season in May.

The containers will supplement and replace receptacles which were donated to the city several years ago by businessmen. Some of the old containers which have worn out are scheduled to be discarded.

Merchants will contribute to a special fund from which the containers will be purchased, then donated to the city. The city incinerator department makes regular collections of the refuse. The trash container program originally was initiated as a beautification project for the downtown area.

The new containers will consist of specially-made "hoods" to fit atop 55-gallon oil drums. The container lids will be purchased from the Charles Products Co. of South Hutchinson, Kans.

Locally, they will be fitted onto the oil drums, which will be cleaned and painted to be converted into trash containers.

New plans also were announced for the businessmen's annual spring outing, which has been scheduled Wednesday, May 1.

The group is scheduled to travel to Pittsburgh by chartered bus to attend a Pirate baseball game. Prior to the game, the merchants will have dinner at the Park Schenley Restaurant in Pittsburgh.

Since it was inaugurated about five years ago, the outing has become an annual tradition. Leslie Blumenthal is in charge of arrangements. Next meeting is Tuesday, April 2.

River Crest To Be Under Flood Stage

Tributaries Have High Water Again But Rain's At End

The swollen Ohio River was expected to crest here today short of flood stage after the heaviest rain in months sent tributary streams out of their banks again.

Another school was closed, production at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. was curtailed briefly and ice gorges continued to develop in Yellow Creek.

One family was evacuated at New Cumberland, a number of homes in the Hammondsville-Irontdale area had water in the basements, there was some flooding in the Elkton district and a couple of rural roads were closed again after previous flooding Monday or Tuesday.

The river was not expected to exceed 30 feet sometime today, according to Charles Boughner, lockmaster at Montgomery Island Dam at Ohio View, who reported a stage of 29.7 feet in the lower pool at midmorning and the stream's rate of rise gradually diminishing.

The Ohio crested at Pittsburgh at 23.28 feet about 5 a.m. then fluctuated a tenth of a foot or so. Flood stage there is 25 feet. East Liverpool's is 32 feet.

He said the fact the Monongahela River was receding indicated the Ohio here would not rise much more.

The river at Ohio View was rising three-tenths hourly until 4 a.m., then the rate decreased to two-tenths and finally dropped off to one tenth.

However, over 2½ inches of rain poured into the river in this area with the swollen creeks and runs of the district adding to the runoff.

Board Issues Reminder On Voter Signup

The County Election Board today reminded East Liverpool residents that Wednesday, March 27, is the deadline for registration for the May 7 primary elections.

Although the deadline is just three weeks away, there has been no rush to qualify, the staff commented.

East Liverpool started 1963 with 8,179 qualified electors after about 2,000 were removed from the rolls in the annual year-end check for failure to vote at least once in the preceding two years or take some other action that would keep their cards in an active status. It was the lowest registration total since 1956.

East Liverpool is the only county subdivision where voter registration is required. Registration in Ohio is permanent and need not be renewed unless: You have not voted at least once in the last two calendar years; you have moved since you have registered; or you have changed your name by marriage or court action.

A new resident is qualified to vote after he has been in Ohio a year and in the county and precinct at least 40 days.

The board's office on W. 6th St., opposite City Hall, is open Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to noon and from 1 to 4:30 p.m. On Saturday, it is open from 8:30 to noon.

Meanwhile, ballots will become available Friday for service personnel and their spouses and civilians residing temporarily outside the U.S. They are the so-called "soldier ballots." Ordinary civilian absentee and disabled voters' ballots will not be available until April 7.

750 Ohio U. Students Evacuated As River Overflows Into Campus

By The Associated Press

Late winter flooding continued in Ohio early today, but the situation remained spotty with some streams on the rise and others receding. At least one new crisis developed.

From 700 to 800 students were evacuated from four dormitories late Tuesday night at Ohio University in Athens when the Hocking River overflowed its banks and spilled into low-lying campus areas.

The Hocking was still on the rise at its 17-foot flood stage and was expected to crest at 7 a.m. today at 24 feet. Water covered the Ohio U. athletic fields and airport and had seeped into basements of the four evacuated dormitories.

In addition, all roads leading out of Athens were inundated, along with the Baltimore & Ohio railroad. Several dozen Athens families had been evacuated from

Athens Virtually Isolated By Flood

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—The Hocking River rose to around 23 feet today, virtually cutting off this southeastern Ohio college community. Flood stage is 17 feet.

But Athens, located in the foothills of the Alleghenies, has known flood conditions before. Area residents seemed to be taking the situation in stride.

Their homes and were being cared for in emergency shelters set up by the Red Cross, civil defense volunteers and others.

Although the Hocking continued on the rise, most of the tributaries flowing into the Ohio River were receding. Favorable forecasts of showers tapering off into snow flurries came from the U.S. Weather Bureau in Columbus.

The Ohio, fed by countless streams along its northern reaches, was expected to crest in the Cincinnati area at 57 feet Saturday, about five feet above flood stage. River observers said this would cause no major flooding.

However, the Scioto River, which had been falling, began to rise slowly again today. Ice-jamming at Prospect in Marion County lifted the river to almost five feet over flood stage, while at Piketon the Scioto was almost 13 feet over flood stage.

Four deaths connected with the storm had been counted in Ohio. They included two drowning victims, a utility repairman who fell from a pole during a storm and a truck driver whose rig crashed on a foggy, rain-slick highway.

Cleanup operations had begun in outlying areas of Wilmington, Hamilton and Middletown as floodwaters receded. But in Warren County, evacuees totaled over 400 families—240 at Morrow, 80 in South Lebanon, 50-75 from Oregon and perhaps as many from the Foster area. Many of the homeless were staying with other families and at hotels.

Other late reports of evacuations came from Shelby County, where the Ohio Highway Patrol joined sheriff's deputies in rescuing 16 families in the village of Port Jefferson. In Darke County, authorities needed a boat to rescue Mrs. Carl Rose and a small child from their flooded home at Stillwater Beach.

Rainfall measurements from the Columbus Weather Bureau early Wednesday were encouraging. In a six-hour period ending at 1 a.m., Cincinnati with .36 of an inch had received the most rain. Columbus had .28 of an inch and Dayton .17.

High Water Blamed For Nine Deaths

Property Damage In Millions; Roads, Schools Are Closed

By The Associated Press

Floods which have driven thousands of persons from their homes and caused widespread property damage and inconvenience to millions in four states appeared easing in some areas today.

However, the threat of further overflows remained in many sections of the flood-stricken regions of Ohio, West Virginia, Pennsylvania and Indiana. Cities in Kentucky along the surging Ohio River were possible danger spots.

The floodwaters from rivers and streams swollen by heavy rains and melting snow were blamed for at least nine deaths, including four in Ohio, three in West Virginia and two in Indiana. Outside the major flood belt, one man drowned in a rain-swollen river in McMinnville, in central Tennessee.

Hundreds of roads throughout the four-state area were closed. Many towns were isolated. Schools and industrial plants were closed in some communities. Train and bus service was delayed and in some places halted.

National Guard troops, civil defense groups and Red Cross disaster units joined in aiding the flood victims.

The chief bright spot in the dreary flood picture was the tapering off of the heavy rains which have pounded the region for several days.

A tornado and severe windstorms swept across areas in Alabama and Georgia Tuesday. A twister which struck the Birmingham, Ala., area damaged about $5 buildings in nearby Bessemer and other suburban areas. Several persons were injured.

Wheeling's Labeled As 'Disaster Area'

WHEELING (AP) — Anxiety over the late winter thaw and drenching rains that have brought severe flooding to low-lying areas of the Upper Ohio Valley turned to the rapidly rising Ohio River today.

Weather bureau stations were predicting the Ohio to crest at or above flood stage throughout its length from here to Cincinnati by Saturday.

The river was expected to crest here today at 31.5 feet, some three feet under flooding level. But forecasters said Parkersburg downstream could expect a crest of 39 feet, well over flood stage of 36 feet, by early tonight.

Meanwhile, Mayor John Gast said damage was estimated at "several million" to public roads and buildings in Wheeling as a result of flooding of Big Wheeling Creek and other smaller streams yesterday and Monday. Gast labeled Wheeling a "disaster area" at a council meeting last night and said he has asked Gov. Barrow to request federal aid.

Furnace Fault Shuts Western Beaver High

Classes were suspended at Western Beaver High School at Industry Tuesday noon as a precautionary move after the gas heating furnace developed a fault.

The office of Frank Meredith, supervising principal, said the Peoples Natural Gas Co. reported the furnace was unsafe and the contractor was called in to remedy the condition. The office said classes had been discontinued until further notice. About 650 students were sent home.

Classes continued in the four elementary schools of the district.

GOP Charts Campaign To Slash Budget

Dirksen's Hoping Initial Saving Will Total $5 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional Republicans have charted a three-year budget-cutting campaign which Sen. Everett M. Dirksen hopes will yield an initial $5 billion saving.

Dirksen, the Senate Republican leader, said in an interview President Kennedy and Democratic congressional chiefs are "off the beam" in contending there is a GOP move to slash spending by $15 billion in the fiscal year starting July 1.

"We have put no price tag on our economy program," Dirksen said. "We are trying to go about it as scientifically as possible to make some substantial reductions in the budget over the next three years."

Dirksen said that by paring established functions somewhat and by fighting against some of the new programs Kennedy is proposing, the Republicans hope to cut appropriations substantially enough to reflect a $5 billion saving in actual expenditures.

As an example, he said Republicans will kick off their drive in the Senate Thursday with opposition to a bill to provide for coordination and development of state-federal outdoor recreation programs.

"This involves an outlay of about $60 million," Dirksen said. "Some people might say that's a drop in the bucket. But if we can keep these drops from filling up the bucket until it runs over, we will have accomplished an objective."

Dirksen said the second target of Republican attack will be a youth employment measure expected to be brought before the Senate later in the month. This bill would set up a youth conservation corps and a community service corps.

They'll Need 'Vigah' To Reduce Poundage

HAMMONDSVILLE — Get out the tape measure, Pops. Moia is trimming away that extra poundage!

That might be the philosophical view of the youngsters with the organizing of a Pep Club by local housewives in a bid to trim their figures through games and other activities.

About 50 are expected to attend the first meeting of the physical fitness group Thursday night at 7 at the old high school gym in Irontdale. Women in both villages plan to participate.

Don McBride, football coach at Stanton Local and ex-Army fitness instructor, will direct the recreational program. Volleyball is to be featured at the first meeting.

Links It To Revisions

Kennedy Pushes Tax Cut Efforts

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy said today he still wants tax reductions linked with tax revisions and it is his judgment that Congress will enact a bill embracing both.

Kennedy did not say whether he would, if necessary, accept a tax cut without what he calls tax reforms.

The first question at a presidential news conference was aimed at trying to clear up exactly what he would accept in tax legislation.

Kennedy has proposed that Congress lower taxes by $13.6 billion over three years and offset this by tax revisions which would bring in $3.5 billion—for a net cut of about $10 billion.

Then last week he said the important thing is to get a tax bill this year, and: "Whatever is necessary to get that bill, I would support."

Some of his remarks to a symposium on economic growth sponsored by the American Bankers Association, were interpreted as meaning he would accept a $13.6 billion slash and, if need be, abandon his bid for offsetting changes in the revenue laws.

Asked whether that was a fair interpretation, Kennedy replied that he thought the best program was the one he had sent to Congress.

He said he felt Congress would enact this type of bill—one including the proposed revisions.

Kennedy opened the news conference with a volunteered statement plugging for congressional action on three legislative proposals.

Kennedy Says Fliers Died Serving Country

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy said today four American fliers reported killed in the Cuban Bay of Pigs invasion died in service to their country.

Kennedy did not answer directly at his news conference the question whether the men were soldiers of fortune or employees of the Central Intelligence Agency. He said the men were flying support voluntarily.

Highway Money Controversy

With Issue Cleared, Ohio House OK's Safety Funds

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State finance is a complex thing. Either Ohio motorists have been robbed of 28 miles of $1 million-a-mile superhighway or the other taxpayers have been spared a $28-million tax increase.

It's all according to how you look at it.

Before the administration of Republican Gov. James A. Rhodes took over, highway officials were looking with envious eyes at the $28 million in highway funds due to be appropriated for highway safety, including the Highway Patrol and the Department of Highway Safety. The plan was to pay highway safety costs out of the general fund.

Then came the Rhodes austerity program. The 9-per-cent cut across-the-board order was issued. That percentage—excluding federal highway construction funds, which, of course, could not be diverted—came very close to the cost of the highway safety program.

The upshot was that the Highway Department agreed to use highway money to pay the cost of operating the Department of Highway Safety for the next two years.

The story came Tuesday after-

Chester Legal Aide Draws Council Fire

Solicitor Reported Absent At Meeting Since Mid-October

A debate on whether the Chester city solicitor should attend Council meetings highlighted its session Tuesday night.

Discussion had been held at previous meetings concerning the absences of Mrs. Ruth Cox Turner, and it was reported that she said councilmen could confer with her on city business at her law offices.

Councilman Donald Hissam said last night that the salary paid Mrs. Turner is "taxpayers' money being given away."

Councilman Wayne Hutton pointed out the city charter does not specify the solicitor is required to attend.

"We should not have to go to her office for advice," Councilman Charles Kology declared.

Mrs. Turner has not attended a Council meeting since Oct. 19.

Hissam said, "Everyone says she should be here, but no one has the courage to fire her."

It was announced there will be a meeting on the city financial program for 1963-64 next Tuesday night, with a possible levy to be considered for the summer street program and wage increases for city employees.

Budget figures have not been received from Hancock County officials because the property valuations will have to revert to 1962 indices, following the recent rejection of a new reappraisal.

Council had contemplated additional money as a result of the reappraisal, but will consider a levy as a means of provided additional revenue.

City Clerk Roy Cashdollar cautioned against excessive spending for the remainder of the current month, pointing out the city treasury had declined to $900 and tax money is not due from the county for two weeks.

In other business, Council authorized installation of two mercury vapor lights at the City Park Community building following a request from Harold Dickey, chairman of the Park Board.

A letter was read from the

Wildcat Strike Hits Crucible Department

A number of workers remained away from their jobs today after a walkout Tuesday afternoon in the LaBelle agricultural department of the Crucible Steel Co. at Midland.

A company statement termed it a "wildcat" strike and the office of the Steelworkers Local 1212 declined to comment. Cause of the work stoppage was not revealed in the company statement.

Southern Local Band Group Awards Uniforms Contract

A contract for purchase of new uniforms for the Southern Local High School band next fall was tentatively awarded to the Oswald, Inc., firm of Staten Island, N. Y. at a meeting of the Band Boosters Tuesday night at the Salineville High School.

The Oswald firm offered a bid of $83 each for 60 uniforms for the band, and is to be contacted today to have a representative return for another display of uniforms and to work out final details.

The club currently has $1,800 in its treasury, and by next fall's delivery will have an estimated $2,500.

At last night's meeting six members agreed to sign notes for the remainder of the cost, because the club is not an incorporated organization and cannot borrow money. Those who agreed to sign notes were Charles Temple, Oscar Gartrell, Martin Adams, Howard Adams, Herbert Dean and Mrs. Mary Clark.

Following a discussion on obtaining majorette uniforms, the group decided to purchase material and have the uniforms made by a seamstress. Named to the majorette uniform committee were Mrs. Kathleen Griffith, Mrs. Donna Adams and Temple, the band director.

On the regular uniform committee are Mrs. Janice Brothers, president, and other officers, along with Mrs. Adams and Temple.

It was agreed to arrange to have the male chorus of the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. present a concert, and a tentative date of April 20 was selected.

A special meeting will be called when the Oswald representative can attend. There were about 30 at last night's meeting.

One Way Or The Other

The question raised by work stoppages that wear out public patience and make a mockery of collective bargaining is whether labor leaders will be smarter in their era than businessmen-financiers were in their era.
The businessmen-financiers reached the peak of their power between the end of the Civil War and the early years of the 20th century when they were putting together the trusts and monopolies that finally became so formidable Congress had no choice. It curbed them with antitrust laws.
When the question arose subsequently about the applications of these laws to unions, then relatively weak, Congress exempted unions. Then in the '30's, Congress took forthright measures under New Deal prodding to beef up unions at a time when business enterprise was relatively weak.
Now, in the '60s, unions have power comparable to that of the money barons in the late 19th century. They can break a recalcitrant company as handily as the trusts could whip recalcitrant companies into line at the climax of their unbridled power.
They can control prices, even dictate the terms on which individuals must earn their livelihood. They can destroy one individual's earning power in the name of helping other individuals.
Once more, Congress is confronted with alternatives: It can hope for improvement, or it can frame legislation to curb excesses that have worn out public patience.
Union leaders also are confronted with alternatives: They can read the handwriting on the wall, or pretend they don't see it and invite the crackdown that will come if they wear out public patience.
The threat of a nationwide railroad strike piled on the existence of a record-breaking newspaper strike in New York and Cleveland atop the recollection of the crippling 116-day steel strike of 1959 have revived proposals for compulsory arbitration.

Neither unions nor management can find favor for compulsory arbitration. It has been called the "solution of the policeman's billy."
Yet, if Congress can see no reason to hope for voluntary restraint, compulsory arbitration will be the only available solution as the country's mood turns to impatience.
Congress will act to protect the public interest; that is its function.
It acted to protect the public interest when it curbed the trusts and monopolies.
If labor unionists give Congress no alternative, they know what to expect.

Positively!

The negative thinking which too often prevails here has drawn an attack from a resident of another Columbiana County community who is a frequent shopper in our stores.
One paragraph in her letter goes like this: "The very worst thing about the town (East Liverpool) is the fact that one and all feel compelled to knock the place instead of trying to do something..."
To this, we say "Amen", having endeavored to point out the same thing from time to time.
It's true that much remains to be done in the way of proper development, but the faulty thinking that exists in too many quarters will hinder not advance such development.
A progressive approach is the only answer to our problems.

In Search Of An Identity

Deep-thinkers in the auto business are wrapped up in the whys and wherefores of a trend toward personalized luxury transportation.
They are off target when they draw a bead on the luxury aspect, because what really ranks as important is not the price but the owner's search for an identity.
He is motivated by the same thing that makes his counterpart in the younger set "customize" a car he can think of as his own—built to his own design and specifications.
He is obeying the same impulse that has moved men and women from the beginning of the auto age to own something distinctively their own, if they had to gold-plate it to achieve uniqueness.

A Free Choice Of Pie

Ohio Sen. Frank J. Lausche has come to the defense of a principle that has pushed around ruthlessly by labor unions, among others.
He thinks when a wage earner votes on union representation he should have a free choice, including whether he wants to be represented. The issue has been brought to his attention in connection with a United Air Lines election giving employees a choice between two unions trying to win bargaining rights, or by "any other organization."
United Air Lines is trying to clear up the matter in a court action.
PENDING the outcome, of management and airline employees are wondering about the justice and logic of asking them if they want apple pie, peach pie, or some other kind of pie, if in fact they may not want pie. Perhaps they want cookies. Or cake. Or it could be they aren't hungry.
This always has been a problem in representative government. There is no all-purpose answer. The voter who looks over the candidates running for a government election and sees nothing in favor of any of them can show his contempt by staying away from the polls—but he loses his vote.

The never-located citizen who answers questions for pollsters must feel the folly of showing preferences for one thing over another when he dislikes both, but he has the option of saying he is "undecided." He loses his vote, too.
IN AN ELECTION for union representation, there is a vital difference. The question in many minds is whether to be represented at all, yet that question never has been put up to vote. The key decision has been pre-empted by others, confronting the wage earner with a proposition that sounds like this:
It having been decided by others that you should eat pie, what do you want—apple, peach, or some other kind of pie?

Hook-Shot

By Truman Twill

By accident the other day, a visitor and I established common acquaintanceship with a family I hadn't thought of for years.
The older son of the family was a memorable athlete in high school in my time. I inquired about him and was told he had spent nearly all his adult life under institutional care because of head injuries sustained in an automobile accident.
I find it hard to believe anything could have injured anyone who could do the amazing things this athlete was able to do when he played for our high school. Like his hook-shot from the right-hand corner of the basketball court.
He invented it, as far as we knew. No one else ever had used it before he began to win games with it. He carried our team to the semifinals in the state tournament with that shot. He and a bottle of rubbing liniment.
The liniment was for the string-beany, uncoordinated body of the only tall kid in school. This never has been easy to understand but tall boys were unheard of in those days. Maybe they didn't go to school; maybe he never saw them for that reason.
The only 6-footer we had was unathletic, ut our coach needed someone to jump enter. The way basketball was played then, center-jump occurred after each basket, ou had to get your share of tip-offs or se by default.
Our boy could jump, but aside from that wasn't much account. Besides being semia- stic, he was lazy. And besides that, he n't like basketball.
But when the team clicked along in tourna- nt play, the coach began to sniff the eet smell of success and blended it with a special linament guaranteed to put life into his no-account jumper. The results were spectacular.

The poor guy turned into a whirling dervish as his skin warmed up. The opposition didn't know what to do about him, except get out of the way. By the time he cooled out at half-time, the strategy was to have enough margin to carry through the rest of the game as he faded into lethargy.
Besides, that hook shot from the right-hand corner was a late-blooming delight. It took half the game to get it grooved. It was a last-quarter specialty.
The strategy didn't win the state tournament, but it carried a so-so team to the semifinals. It's strange that I have only faint impressions of the other players. I'm sure they were more important to the team than the kid who invented the hook-shot or the lanky-danky who came to life when he had been rubbed with liquid fire.
Later, the hook-shot specialist went to a big university and became a famous athlete in three sports—football, basketball and baseball. I lost track of him. He was only a sophomore when he invented the hook-shot—a two-thirds-grown, bushy-haired kid who couldn't make an awkward move. He was the best-coordinated athlete I ever saw at close range.
A spectator who couldn't play basketball for trying and couldn't even see the basket without his glasses feels sad about the waste of life lived in an institution when it should have been lived in the satisfaction of well-coordinated motion.
I'll keep on remembering the hook shot, thanks. Beautiful, kid, beautiful.

Driving A Hard (?) Bargain

Unions Sign Government Workers

By Victor Riesel

President John Kennedy is the biggest employer of labor in the United States and since well over a million government workers are nonunion, the drive is on. National labor leaders, operating through their special Government Employees Council, have put their recruiting target at a minimum of 800,000 members.
This is part of the labor chiefs' campaign to start moving toward a national goal of 30 million members—and to prove that reports of the death of their movement are greatly exaggerated.
Union organizers are moving everywhere the government has an installation—and they are organizing successfully. In recent months they have signed a formal contract with Willard Wirtz which covers 4,500 Labor Department employees.

Victor Riesel

intense briefings in industrial relations. No longer can a commandant decide—without consultation—hours, weekend shifts, working conditions, promotions or the settlement of grievances of his civilian employees.
The Naval, as well as other Pentagon brass, now must confer and bargain with unions.
As a result, the chief of industrial relations of the U.S. Navy decided on Feb. 11 to issue a manual on labor negotiating.
The Navy's industrial relations chief will call selected officers and senior civilian directors of field activities, to Washington, D.C. they will be put through a three-day intensive orientation course on labor and its demands and how to deal with union officials. This now will be the practice in the Pentagon as well as the space agencies.

last July 1. This was the go-ahead sign for unionization.
If a union signed up 10 per cent of a group of workers, it would be granted formal recognition. If it obtained 51 per cent, the union would have exclusive bargaining rights.
In the two months following the July 1 effective date, the Army, Navy, Air Force and Defense Supply Agency granted formal or exclusive recognition to civilian employe unions in 73 major installations. Since then the drive has speeded up across the land. On my recent trip I ran into such efforts everywhere.

ON THE MARCH are such generally unpublicized organizations as the American Federation of Government Employees; National Federation of Federal Employees; National Association of Supervisors; the Metal Trades Department of the AFL-CIO, and the Planners, Estimators and Progressmen's Association—as well as the better known sailors, electricians, plumbers, etc.
Now the Government Employees Council expects that President Kennedy will issue another executive order—this time directing all government agencies to grant the dues checkoff to the recognized unions. This will happen any day now and would speed the organizing drive.

After this will come the campaign for the 35-hour week inside the government—as the first step for similar shortening in private industry. It seems to me too many people are writing labor's obituary these days.

The Untold Story

By David Lawrence

Full Analysis Needed For Common Market

Sooner or later, the American people will probably get the whole story of how the Common Market affects them concretely and what the plan really means for the future of Europe.
But, up to now, various misinterpretations have been spread which have prevented many persons on this side of the Atlantic from getting a full understanding of the problem.
On Sunday night, for example, a television presentation to a nationwide audience gave millions of American listeners a mistaken impression of the significance of the Common Market. The portrayal of the industrial progress being made currently was realistic and timely, but the principal thought conveyed was that the Common Market is deliberately designed to bring about a United States of Europe and that this development is just around the corner.
The idea stressed was that the people of six European countries—France, Italy, West Germany, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg — are ready now to give up their patriotic feelings about their homeland and merge themselves in some kind of single supergovernment, and that the people of Great Britain eventually join also.

David Lawrence

While the Common Market has unquestionably increased already the prosperity of each member country, it is far from realistic to say that the several nations on the continent of Europe, speaking different languages and enjoying different cultural interests, are all of a sudden to become one nation.
THE EXAMPLE cited in the television presentation was that of the development of the United States of America from the 13 colonies.
The difference is that in 1776 the people of all the Colonies spoke the same language and, for the most part, had the same ethnic background.
It will be conceded by almost everyone who studies the subject that the Common Market concept is, from the business standpoint, a good one for its members.
While some of its champions have argued for political union, there is nothing so likely to impede the economic advancement of Europe as an attempt to minimize, if not destroy, national pride and patriotism. Local politicians can readily make an inflammatory issue out of such an emotional subject.
Even with two nations as closely allied as Canada and the United States, a momentous proposal in 1911 to sign a reciprocal tariff agreement between the two countries was killed in the Canadian Parliament because some one in high office here thoughtlessly mentioned a design for "annexation" of Canada by the United States.

WHAT WAS surprising about the television commentary on Sunday night was its failure to point up what the impact of the Common Market is going to be on the Communist bloc in Europe.
Nor was there any comment as to the chances of ever bringing about the independence of all the satellite countries if their peoples are to be offered, in effect, a choice between being ruled by a central government in Moscow or by a supergovernment or council in either London or Paris.
Nothing could be more discouraging to the cause of self-determination.

The "Common Market is, of course, a basically sound approach for the settlement of tariff and other economic questions.
A few days ago, the West German ambassador to the United States, Heinrich Knapstein, made a candid speech at Los Angeles about the reasons why England hasn't gotten into the Common Market.

IT IS at variance with the persistent efforts recently to make it appear that Gen. de Gaulle acted arbitrarily and without justification in vetoing Britain's entry into the Common Market.
The ambassador said: "De Gaulle's attitude appears to be the following: The British would like to join the club of six nations. They are welcome at any time provided they recognize the rules and by laws of the club as everyone must who joins a club. In practice, however, the British seek approval of a long list of exceptions and special privileges. This De Gaulle rejects."

What this speech emphasizes is that there is more to the recent failure of the British to be accepted in the European Common Market than meets the eye.
The whole problem isn't going to be solved in a few weeks or months or perhaps even years. Nor are the American people going to understand it until they discover that protective tariffs and quotas imposed by the Common Market in Europe are already diminishing the flow of certain American agricultural and other products into European markets.

THIS VERY WEEK, Walter Hallstein, president of the European Common Market Organization, conferred with President Kennedy, Secretary of State Rusk, Secretary of Agriculture Freeman and other officials about protests from this country concerning Common Market tariffs.

The United Press International report on these conferences said: "In the last few years the United States has developed a multimillion dollar poultry business in West Germany alone. But since last July when a 12.5 cents per pound tariff was slapped on U. S. poultry, that profitable trade has just about dried up."
Incidentally, in the television show on Sunday night it was not emphasized that much of the industrial progress in Europe would never have been possible without funds supplied by the American taxpayer and the billions invested by American companies in overseas plants and factories.
There's a lot behind the phrase Common Market that needs telling.

Recommendations Cleared

Scholarship Foundation Group Advances Plans

Further details of an area-wide student scholarship fund program, with money to be awarded this spring, were planned at a meeting of the Citizens Scholarship Foundation Tuesday night at the Westgate School.

The new organization adopted recommendations on funds to be provided for vocational training under the interest-free loan program — which is chiefly for college students — and for a point system by which eligible students are selected for the loans.

WILLIAM Kozel, chairman of a committee appointed to study the amount of funds to be offered for advanced vocational training, reported the committee recommended that up to 15 per cent of the foundation's funds be utilized for students of "profit-making" institutions.

Such money would apply for students of technical or vocational training schools. The major portion of the foundation's program applies to colleges, technical or nursing schools which are non-profit.

After a discussion on various aspects of vocational training, the foundation formally accepted the committee's recommendation to the awards committee.

The foundation also adopted for recommendation to the awards committee a report on a proposed point selection system as submitted by a committee headed by Glenn Waight.

THE PROPOSAL incorporates the point system adopted by the national Citizens Scholarship Foundation which has assigned up to 55 points for financial need, up to 35 points for scholarship achievement and up to 5 points each for leadership and for having some type of employment.

Each applicant for a loan will be required to file a formal application to the foundation, listing the college at which he has been accepted, the family's income and other information which can be utilized in determining his needs and other qualifications and which will be kept confidential.

About 20 attended the meeting at which Joseph Coons, president requested Sam Brown, city postmaster and chairman of the nominating committee, to file a report on recommendations for appointments to the awards committee at the next meeting March 19.

COONS REPORTED the Jaycees, which provided for establishment of the foundation — now an independent community group — spent $145 in the project, and have now completed their role in it.

Waight reported plans are being made for an area-wide fund drive tentatively planned for early April in the East Liverpool, Beaver Local and north Hancock County areas.

Wellsville School Supt. Lowell Myers and Jerry Russell of the Wellsville Junior Chamber of Commerce attended the meeting to determine whether the foundation program would apply to Wellsville.

Coons explained Wellsville groups had been invited to the organization meetings, but little interest had been shown from that area.

HE ADDED, however, that if Myers and Russell believe the Wellsville area wished to take part, the foundation program would be extended. The two Wellsville men said the project would be studied further.

It was pointed out that money obtained from the various school districts in the fund drives would be assigned to student loans on the same proportion. "If Beaver Local contributes 20 per cent of the funds, Beaver Local students will get 20 per cent of the loans," Coons said.

A report on industrial contributions to the program so far was not fully completed for last night's meeting, and will be filed at the next session, Coons said.

Officials Order New Police Auto

Acting on bids received Feb. 18, Mayor Bert H. Goodballet and Safety - Service Director Robert Owen Tuesday afternoon awarded a $2,450 contract to Mike Turk, Inc., of Walnut St. to furnish a 1963 Chevrolet Biscayne four-door sedan for use as a police cruiser.

The mayor and director comprise the Board of Control, with authority to act on city sales or purchases involving $1,000 or more.

Owen said Turk has promised delivery in about three weeks. The Chevrolet, equipped with a V-8 engine, will be specially built for police work, including a reinforced body and chassis, he said. The features include a "non-slip" differential and the dealer offered free chassis lubrication as long as the city owns the vehicle.

Owen said the contract was awarded to Turk because officers expressed a preference for Chevrolet - built autos as cruisers. The price did not include a trade. An old cruiser will be converted into a service department vehicle for use of the director and the Council street committee.

Mrs. Patricia Stevens, 23, of Chester suffered a possible fracture of a lower vertebra in a fall down steps. She was treated early yesterday afternoon.

Lausche Delays His Appearance To Oppose Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, has postponed until Thursday an appearance before the Senate Banking Committee to oppose the administration's mass transit bill.

Lausche, who was to testify Tuesday, claims the measure would lead to government control of mass transportation systems. The Ohio senator has introduced his own bill which, instead of providing subsidies, would provide federal guarantees of bonds for construction of new mass transportation systems.

Lausche's bill came under fire Tuesday at the committee hearing. Sen. Harrison A. Williams Sr., D-N.J., asserted the proposal was "ill-conceived, unsound and fundamentally bad."

Williams said Lausche's bill, by guaranteeing long-term bond issues, would tend to perpetuate the government's interest in mass transit systems.

West Beaver Will Dedicate New School

The Western Beaver County Board of Education met Monday evening in the Industry school and set dedication ceremonies of the new high school for April 22, at 8 p. m.

Elliott Falk, executive director of the Pennsylvania Public School Building Authority, will be speaker.

In other action, the board tentatively approved field trips for the sixth grade pupils to the Buhl Planetarium in Pittsburgh and the Conway railroad yards.

The Industry PTA was given permission to hold a card party in the Logan School sometime in March, and the Circle Dr. sanitation commission was granted use of the Logan school for a meeting March 15 or 23.

Leo Curto, music instructor, was authorized to attend the district band festival at West Middlesex High School Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Thomas B. Romar, Ken Stephens and Charles Thorn, student, will participate in the band concert.

Mrs. Donna Campbell, cafeteria worker at the Snyder School, resigned and Mrs. Mary Brooks of Ohioville was hired to replace her.

Charles Henderson of the building and grounds committee will inspect all school buildings and report any repairs that may be needed for inclusion in the upcoming budget.

Donald Bradshaw, elementary principal, will speak at the next business meeting April 1 at 8 p. m. in the Logan School. Next regular meeting is March 18 in the high school.

Man Faces Prison In Police Bribe Plot

CINCINNATI (AP) — Stanley Gooch, 34, has been sentenced to concurrent 1-10 year penitentiary terms for trying to bribe a policeman.

Common Pleas Court Judge Louis J. Schneider imposed the sentence Tuesday. Gooch was convicted Jan. 8 after testimony by police witnesses that he paid an officer $5 weekly for five weeks while operating an illegal drinking and gambling place.

Street Work To Be Asked

ing the Board of Control to take action in the immediate future toward having repairs made to the water standpipes.

TAGGART SAID getting equipment to the standpipes still presents a problem. The city does not have a suitable access to the property and in the past has had to pay private landowners for storing equipment.

Stroble reported the street and light committee is to make a survey of the city to determine where additional street lights are needed. He said the Ohio Power Co. was asked to do this but the utility prefers that city officials determine where lights are needed.

He said there is approximately $2,500 surplus a year in the street light fund. He suggested spending $1,200 for installing mercury vapor lights along Main St. between 3rd and 9th Sts. and then part of the remainder for new lights in other vicinities.

Miller questioned his figures, saying there is a $3,500 surplus in the fund now but it was accumulated over several years. He said there will not be a $2,500 surplus each year. "If this is so, I move we have a complete study made and then reduce the rate of the street light levy," he said. Taggart said he could see nothing wrong with having a surplus and said if any new lights are installed, they should be put in the alleys.

Solicitor William Bush later said he does not understand the figures presented.

COUNCILMAN Frank R. DeLorenzo was absent. Mrs. Mary Rahter, president, said he is ill. The audience was filled with students from the high school American Problems Class taught by Charles Wilfong.

One student complained of potter workers parking along 11th and White Sts. and Anderson Ave. when they have parking lots.

Council ordered a letter sent to the Sterling China Co., asking the company to request the workers to use the lots, leaving street parking for the residents.

Another questioned the sanitary condition of the City Jail. Mayor Daugherty said that the jail is not in the best condition, but it is all the city has. The students were invited to tour City Hall and the jail as a class.

The Rev. Lewis Frazier offered the opening prayer.

Floods

colder weather on the way, which will help reduce water levels.

The temperature drop was to bring scattered snow flurries to night and Thursday after spring-like temperatures in the upper 40's today. There were brief flurries in the forenoon.

A huge ice jam at Huygheville along Yellow Creek caused flooding upstream in the villages of Hammondsville and Irondale.

Huge chunks of ice dislodged by blasting in Salineville, and other ice that had accumulated miles upstream in Big Yellow Creek, jammed at a curve at Cool Hollow along Route 213, about a mile from the Yellow Creek intersection.

The stream overflowed onto Route 213 yesterday morning and subsided over the night. But a section of a road in Irondale was covered with water this morning.

Many homes in Hammondsville and Irondale have flooded basements and Irondale volunteer firemen reported they have been kept busy operating portable pumps.

A couple of families in Hammondsville were forced from their homes when Big Yellow Creek overflowed its banks. Water was four to five feet deep in some basements along the stream, and a few families were without furnace heat. Furniture was removed from two homes along Little Yellow Creek to homes on higher ground.

As the huge ice jam moved downstream Monday night, it demolished a boat dock in Huygheville owned by Arvill Howell. A swinging bridge a short distance upstream was also washed away.

Most of the low-lying bottomland in the Hammondsville area remained covered today with water and chunks of ice.

In New Cumberland, where many families are used to moving to higher ground each spring because of flooding, Red Cross officials stood by today keeping a watchful eye on the Ohio River.

One family residing along a creek in the central part of the Hancock County seat was moved from its home this morning when the swollen creek overflowed its banks.

As in the past, the creek began backing up due to the raise in the Ohio River into which it empties. Several other homes along the creek are threatened by high water.

Water from the swollen and ice-clogged Middle Beaver Creek which flooded low-lying areas of Elkton Tuesday night and early today—forcing a suspension of classes at the Elkton School—began to recede late this morning.

About 1½-feet of water stood across Route 154 and the center of the village at 9 a.m. as melting snow and continuing rain brought the creek over flood level in back of some ice jams downstream.

About 120 students at the school were given a holiday as a result of the high waters. The Elkton School is on higher ground south of the village, but a number of students would have had to cross the bridge, which was under water.

George VanHorne, executive head of Beaver Local School District, said classes will resume Thursday. The Beaver Public School at Williamsport, closed Tuesday when surface water entered the school well, resumed classes today. Tests after the well was disinfected and pumped yesterday indicated the water supply was safe, he said.

Cars and trucks slogged slowly through the flooded areas of Route 154 in the village this morning as traffic was maintained.

The water crossed the highway during the night, but road crews, alerted to the rising creek, posted "High Water" signs late last night.

Chunks of ice floated in the waters which lapped at porches and steps of several homes in the village. Few buildings here have basements.

This was the first time since January 1959 the creek waters have spilled into the village's central area.

Water flooded Route 318 east of Route 633 near Millport again overnight and this morning, according to the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon, and roads in the Franklin Square area were covered. Both areas had flooding Monday.

Officers said there was several feet of water covering the Lisbon - Canfield road at a low site in the northern part of the county.

One-lane traffic was in effect on the Route 45 bridge at West Point near the DAV home because ice damaged and broke planks on one side of the span, officers reported.

At Salineville, where an ice jam behind a railroad bridge and embankment threatened serious flooding Monday before the gorge was blasted open, Yellow Creek was receding from a temporary rise last night, officials said.

A large amount of thick ice in the creek just below the village reservoir had melted considerably in the past 24 hours, and the threat of a new ice jam had diminished.

A number of Crucible departmentments had to curtail yesterday afternoon when debris blocked the water intake of the plant's pumping station on the river.

Two open hearth furnaces returned to operation at 11 last night and two electric furnaces also resumed. The blooming mill began operations at 8 this morning and the hot strip and forge stock will resume production at 3 p.m. today.

The 10-12-14-inch mill and the 24-inch bar mill resumed operation at 7 a. m. today and attempts were being made to restart the 12-18 inch mill late today.

At 8 this morning, the stream was at least five feet below the pavement of the River Rd. at the lowest point, which is approximately a tenth of a mile upstream from the Chester Bridge.

Mayor Wagner Expresses Hope In Paper Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor Robert F. Wagner said today: "We are moving toward the point when I hope there can be a fair settlement" in the contract dispute between striking printers and publishers of the eight New York City newspapers that have not printed in 89 days.

Wagner, mediator in the dispute since Jan. 26, made the statement after another round of day and night talks ended at 1:45 a. m.

Wagner said that he expected joint sessions this afternoon. Wagner said, "We're not wasting time now," but that "if we are going to waste time, I'm going to take the next step."

Mike Turk Traces Business Career In Talk To Rotarians

A business career that began with a newsboy's job in East Liverpool 54 years ago and reached its zenith in 1956 with the acquisition of a triple auto franchise was outlined by Michael Turk at the Rotary Club's meeting Tuesday in the Travelers Hotel.

Son of a Lithuanian immigrant who couldn't even read English schoolbooks when he arrived in this country as an 11-year-old, Turk reflected on a business career which has found him weathering crises after crises due to a depression, World War, recession and steel strikes.

Owner of a $2 million auto retailing business that employs 41 and sold 850 autos last year, Turk's early career was marked by near ruin several times, but he told of always keeping an eye peeled for expansion.

Turk told fellow club members that his father, a tailor, became a naturalized citizen of the U. S. in 1911 and returned abroad for his family of four sons, two daughters and his wife.

The auto dealer's formal education at first was difficult because he was familiar only with the Hebrew language. He started classes in the first grade but was moved up to the fourth because he was considered "too big" for that level, Turk recalled.

After graduating from East Liverpool High School in 1920, he entered Case Institute of Technology to study architecture. He recalled he was so broke he was forced once to exist on a diet of a dozen doughnuts over a three-day period.

Turk later switched to another field of study, enrolling at the University of Pittsburgh for a career in medicine. He commuted to classes on a train each morning at 5:45.

Meanwhile, his reputation as a

Ministers At Wellsville Assign In School Rites

Assignments for baccalaureate and commencement services for the 1963 graduating class of Wellsville High School were outlined at a meeting of the Wellsville Area Ministerial Association Monday at the Central Federal Savings & Loan Association.

The Rev. James D. Sanko, president, will preside for baccalaureate May 26. He is pastor of the Riverside United Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. Clark Allison of the Church of the Nazarene will give the sermon. The Rev. Bruce Davy of the Covenant United Presbyterian Church will have the invocation and the Rev. Arden Beck of the First Methodist Church will offer the benediction.

Robert Andrews, minister of the First Christian Church, will have the Scripture reading and Lewis Frazier, a retired United Presbyterian minister, will offer prayer.

Commencement exercises will be May 27 at 8:15 p. m. The Rev. William Hewitt of the Central Methodist Church will give the invocation and benediction.

Bennett Taylor, Columbiana Boy Scout Council executive, was guest speaker. He outlined the summer camp program at Leesville Lake and explained the role of the chaplain in the program.

The chaplain is supported by area congregations and ministerial associations, among other sources. Because of the expanded camp schedule, increased compensation is necessary, Taylor said. There will be an eight-week program this year.

The association went on record encouraging local residents and groups to further explore a Community Chest or united appeal program for charitable fund-raising projects.

A discussion was held on the pulpit exchange held Feb. 24. It was termed a success.

Next meeting is April 1.

Old Town, Maine, is known as Canoe City.

Is There A New Virus? Seems So To Thousands

NEW YORK (AP)—Is there a new virus around?

It surely seems so to thousands of persons hit this winter by funny aches and pains and upsets, including bloody noses blamed on "the bloody virus."

Perhaps it's true that brand new viruses have popped up, and might even start appearing at a faster rate, says Dr. Robert Huebner of the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases.

Scientists only recently identified most of 120 or more viruses known to cause colds, fevers, muscular aches and pains, diarrhea, coughs and runny noses—a great variety of mostly minor ailments.

Man is their target, and man has evolved and multiplied over thousands of years.

Biologically speaking, viruses had to evolve also—"They weren't all present the day man was kicked out of paradise," says Dr. Huebner, director of the institute's laboratory of infectious diseases in Bethesda, Md.

Influenza viruses change or mutate fairly frequently. Any flu vaccine has to incorporate the strain of virus blazing up into an epidemic.

Other respiratory and intestinal viruses also might be mutating during chain-reaction epidemics, reproducing more viruses in each person.

Something could go amiss in the genetic assembly line so that a slightly different virus is produced from time to time. With more than three billion people in the world now, the chances could be greater that a new virus could appear, Huebner explains.

There's no way yet to prove this. Peculiar illnesses this year could well be due to some old virus that hadn't been active in recent years in your locality.

This year, for example, in some eastern cities many people got bloody noses, beyond the expectation of slight bleeding due to injury to nasal membranes by colds, perhaps abetted by low humidity in heated houses.

These people got real nosebleeds, sometimes along with coughs, muscular aches and intestinal upsets. One nose and throat specialist called it "the bloody virus."

Phone Operator Cited In Saving Patient's Life

LONDON, Ohio (AP)—A patient in Madison County Hospital can thank a long distance operator that he is still alive.

Jerry Stahl, 34, of London was nearly overcome by carbon monoxide fumes from a gas heater in his home early Tuesday and tried to obtain help by telephone.

Mrs. Cora Stada, an Ohio Bell Telephone Co. operator at Columbus, responded to the long distance service flash on her switchboard, but Stahl was only able to moan and mumble the word "gas."

For nearly 30 minutes, Mrs. Stada and Mrs. Dorothy Watson, chief night operator, urged Stahl to give them his name or whereabouts.

Finally they succeeded and the operators telephoned London police, who found Stahl unconscious. He was reported in satisfactory condition at the hospital.

Sohio Reports Sales Record, Earnings Dip

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Standard Oil Co. (Ohio) reported 1962 was the best year in the company's history as far as sales volume went, but earnings slipped to $24,222,000, or $4.85 per share of common stock.

The 1961 earnings were $24,541,000, or $5.11 per share.

SHORT ON GLAMOUR

But long on importance is blast furnace equipment purchased last year. It includes the clay gun shown here and a taphole drill - modern tools for tapping our giant iron-makers. These tools do the job better and, what is more important, insure greater safety for employees who work in this area.

The equipment cost Crucible $65,000 and is just one item of a long list we bought last year to keep our plant modern, our production facilities efficient.

The money to pay for it must come from profits.

Profit dollars are working dollars. Without them Crucible can't keep going and growing. They help keep Crucible competitive.

Wellsville Will Borrow For Current Expenses

Legislation authorizing the city to borrow money to meet current expenses and a lengthy discussion on a proposal to hire another patrolman highlighted a meeting of Wellsville City Council Tuesday night.

Council approved legislation providing for the issuance of notes in anticipation of collection of revenues for the fiscal year of 1963.

The city is allowed to borrow up to $15,000, or half the anticipated revenue. The legislation provides the mayor and auditor shall determine when the notes are to be issued. Interest is not to exceed 4 per cent.

THE LEGISLATION is necessary to obtain money to meet current payrolls and expenses as tax revenues from the county will not arrive until April.

The legislation also contains an emergency clause, making it effective immediately.

Councilman Allen Baldwin made the proposal an extra patrolman be added to the force. He commented some $2,500 to $3,000 is spent annually for extra patrolmen. With another $1,200 appropriated, "we could have a full-time officer," he said.

This would make an eight-man force. He said the extra officer would provide additional protection to the city at night and perhaps halt a rash of breaking and enterings.

COUNCILMAN William Stroble commented he believes this is a good idea. The force is undermanned, particularly at night, he said. He said another patrolman could take in enough fines to make up the extra $1,300 needed. Stroble also commented a 11 calls at night have to be relayed through the fire station and the prisoners in jail at City Hall are left alone at night.

Baldwin said separate radio communications will be needed soon to meet new requirements under federal law. Presently both the police and fire departments operate on the same frequency.

Councilman Donald Miller said the new radio still could be operated at the fire station. The city will have to put out about $3,000 for this equipment. He said another patrolman would cost the city $4,440 a year. This, with the $3,000 needed for the radio unit, "will make it rough in meeting the budget," he commented, pointing out how hard it was to cut the budget by $5,000 for 1962.

MRS. MARY Rahter, Council president, commented when the police asked for a 40-hour week, and received it, they said no extra men would be needed. "What reason can they give the public now for the need when the city has not grown?" she asked.

Councilman Robert Taggart said he is against adding another man to the force. He suggested a meter maid be hired to patrol the parking meters, thereby relieving a patrolman from this duty.

He said a woman could be hired for the job at less than a patrolman's salary.

Miller said he believes another officer is needed, but said extra policemen also would be required for parades, vacations or when officers are off ill.

Asked by Taggart if the regular police are compensated for extra duty, Miller said no.

Stroble said he would "hate to be a patrolman on duty between midnight and 8 a. m. and be called on a breaking and entering alone," he said. When the cruiser is in one end of town, motorists speed in the other, he said.

HE THEN commented the extra man could handle the calls and this would mean firemen would be relieved of this job.

Miller said the calls wouldn't be handled any faster. "If there are three men on daylight, take one off and put him on night turn," he said. But, he commented, a city of this size should have 10 men.

Mrs. Rahter said national police organizations believe only seven men are needed for up to 10,000 residents.

Stroble suggested tapping the parking meter fund for the additional money. He said the meters soon will be paid for and this will mean additional revenue.

Taggart said they should take the meter money, use it for police salaries, and cut back the police levy.

Councilman Dwight MacLean said he doesn't believe any more officers are needed. Councilman Kay Drago said she believes another man is needed at night.

Chemical Plant's Office Damaged During Burglary

Burglars caused damage in the office of the Dacar Chemical Co. plant, 1798 Michigan Ave., in an apparent search for money Tuesday night or early today, then left empty-handed, police reported.

The intruders entered the building between 7 p. m. yesterday and 6 a. m. today, forcing their way into the office by breaking a 12-x-16-inch pane of glass in a door, then reaching through to manipulate the latch, officers said.

Patrolmen Orin C. Smith and Jerry Adkins investigated after the burglary was reported at 7:44 this morning by Walter Mellington, plant superintendent.

The patrolmen said they found the office in "general disorder." A desk and a chair were overturned in the center of the floor and papers had been scattered about the room, they said. Mellington told officers no money ever is kept at the plant.

Frank Cornman, an employee, checked the plant at 7 last night and found nothing amiss, police said. John Mellington, an employee, discovered the entry when he reported for work at 6 this morning.

Chester Kiwanis Club Commended On Work

The Chester Kiwanis Club ranked first in achievement reports in the First Division during January it was announced at a meeting of the club Tuesday night at the City Hall.

Eugene Seeley, secretary-treasurer, reported the ranking at the meeting which Ned Hunter of Wheeling, lieutenant governor for the division, also spoke and commended the club for its work.

At a board meeting, a contribution of $15 was approved for a 4-H Summer Camp.

Guests included Jim Boyd and Jim Ohenour, Chester High School Key Club members, and Joseph Harper of Lancaster, Ohio.

About 30 attended. The invocation was given by R. M. McFarland, Lee Adams, president, was in charge.

350 At Lisbon Event

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I want to be fair so I will start off by saying I've had many male teachers and most of them were gentlemen. But this male teacher I am writing about is a problem, not only to me but to other girls.

This teacher is the only one in the school who teaches a specialized subject and there's no way to avoid him. Bluntly, he can't seem to keep his hands off the girls. When I ask him a question he puts his head close to mine and whispers into my ear. Sometimes he adjusts my beads or flattens my collar or straightens my hairbow.

Yesterday he put his hands around my shoulders when he talked to me and I almost died of embarrassment. This was in front of the whole class.

He does the same thing to many girls so it isn't just me. So far as I know he never goes any further than just pawing but it makes me uncomfortable and I don't know how to handle it. Can you help?—JUNIOR MISS.

Dear Miss: More often than not, pawers, touchers and nudgers are unaware they have the habit. The best cure is to gently but firmly remove the pawer's hands from your shoulders, beads, collar or hairbow. Make a point of what you are doing. He will become aware that this habit is annoying to you and can then set out to overcome it.

Not His Name

Dear Ann: I'm considering marrying Linda whom I've been dating for two years. The only thing standing in the way is a problem which may have no significance but it's gnawing at me and raising doubts.

Linda frequently calls me Chuck which is not my name. Chuck is a fellow we both are acquainted with but so far as I know she never has gone out with him and there is nothing between them. Linda seems normal in every other way and can remember everybody else's name. Why can't she remember mine? Only yesterday she phoned her mother in my presence and told her that "Chuck will bring me home about 11 o'clock."

Can this mean that Linda has Chuck on her mind and that I'm a fool to consider her for a wife?—NOT CHUCK.

Dear Not: People often "mis-speak" themselves.

Every mother alive has called one of her children by another child's name. In fact some mothers go through three or four names before they hit the right one. The next time Linda calls you Chuck—say, "Yes, Ophelia."

Grandfather's Gripe

Dear Ann: The letter from the grandfather who was disgusted because he received a birthday gift with a card which said, "With love from Bonnie, Don, Debbie—Sue, Hal, Mary, Gerry, Debbie—etc." was wonderful.

I'm a grandfather, too, and like the man who wrote, I select gifts for my family with loving care. Yet, year after year, my children send me things which show so little thought I'd prefer no gift at all.

For Christmas my daughter sent me a leather belt which is 6 inches too small. My son sent a heavy wool shirt, the kind men in Michigan wear for hunting. I live in Miami and have no use for such a shirt. Another daughter sent cuff links. I don't own one shirt with French cuffs.

My 11-year-old grandson sent me a cake of soap, which was the only gift I could use. Strangely enough, his mother wrote and apologized for the gift, thinking I might be offended.

Please tell people, Ann, that sending a gift just to take care of an obligation is no compliment. And the receiver can always tell. —ALSO COMPLAINING.

Dear Also: You've made the point, Gramps. I can add nothing but my thanks for writing.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Forms Available For Peace Corps

LISBON — The success and popularity of Peace Corps volunteers working in community action programs in Columbia has led the government to seek additional corps assistance, according to Don Myers, county extension agent in agriculture.

Columbia, the first country in Latin-America to receive Peace Corps help, now has 167 volunteers working in rural and urban community programs.

The Colombia government has asked for 100 men and women with rural backgrounds, training in agriculture or home economics, and experience in farming and homemaking.

Married couples are encouraged to apply if they have no children under 18, both are willing to serve as full-scale volunteers and both have skills which can be used on the project.

For application blanks, and information on this and other Peace Corps programs, contact Myers, county agent, the Post Office or write to the Peace Corps, Agricultural Division, Washington, 25, D. C.

School Board Sets Calendar

The Southern Beaver County Joint School Board met Monday evening in the school at Hookstown and approved the 1963-64 school calendar.

School is scheduled to open, after summer vacation, on Sept. 4. Classes will suspend Oct. 11 for the Mid-West PSEA convention; Oct. 14, teachers-in-service day; Nov. 11, Veterans Day; Nov. 28-29, Thanksgiving; Dec. 23-Jan. 2, Christmas, March 30, Easter, and March 27, Good Friday. Classes will end June 5.

In other action, authorization was given the band to take a field trip April 9 to the Matheny Fieldhouse at Geneva College. James Peddycord is the band director.

Ken Kurtz, guidance counselor, was authorized to attend the Pennsylvania School Councilors Association meeting in Hersey, Pa., March 28-30.

The secretary was authorized to advertise for bids for 11 school and for purchases of general supplies.

The board accepted the resignation, effective April 1, of Mrs. Cathryn McElhane, secretary.

Democrats Say Rhodes Plan To Hit Poor Hardest

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's poorest people will suffer most from Republican Gov. James A. Rhodes' plans to reduce the state's welfare aid, legislative Democrats charge.

House Minority Leader A. G. Lacione, D-Belmont, and Senate Minority Leader Frank W. King, D-Lucas, pictured the Republican governor Tuesday as a man trying to polish his image as a penny-pinching, tight-fisted watchdog of the public's money.

Instead, they charged, the Republican move will cost local governments millions of dollars.

Their attack was aimed at an announcement last week by Rhodes' welfare director, Denver White, which said aid to the aged and disabled will be cut back and that the state will slash its matching of local poor relief spending from 50 to 40 per cent.

In a statement, the Democratic leaders said this marks the first time that Ohio has failed to match local relief payments 50-50. As a result, they said, relief directors in metropolitan areas will have no choice except to cut relief payments by 16 per cent. These payments, they said, are only 80 per cent of absolute minimum needs.

Cleveland Mayor Plans To Remain Out Of Strike

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mayor Ralph S. Locher said today he has no plans to intervene again in the city's 97-day-old newspaper strike now that the Teamsters and the Newspaper Guild have settled their disputes with the publishers.

Three unions remain on strike against the Plain Dealer and the Press and News, and contracts must be negotiated with four other unions which, however, have not struck.

The mayor said he would not step in unless "a situation developed in which I would feel I could be of direct assistance."

Locher intervened Jan. 8 and brought negotiators for the publishers, Teamsters and the Guild—then the only two unions on strike—into his office. The Guild ended its strike last week, and Teamsters Local 473 voted Monday night to accept the publishers' contract offer.

The mayor said he still is involved in negotiations with the Teamsters, even though agreement has been reached there. He said he is a member of a fact-finding committee which is to determine disposition of certain welfare and pension payments from distribution of supplements by the delivery drivers.

'Top Hands' Session

District Scout Officials Map Future Programs

Plans for future programs and activities were discussed at a "top hands" meeting held by Cherokee District Boy Scout officials Monday night at the home of Bill Rayburn of Calcutta, district camping and activities chairman.

Tom Snow, district chairman, presided. How to build attendance at district committee meetings were discussed. All institutional representatives, operating committees and members at large will be invited to the next district meeting, March 12 at the Chester American Legion home.

The proper procedure for a Board of Review and Court of Honor will be presented at this session. Each institutional representative will be asked to report on his assigned units.

Snow also discussed the annual district recognition dinner. No date has been set.

Rayburn discussed the Philmont Ranch trip and asked that reservations be made soon as possible at the Council office at Lisbon. Any organization may sponsor a scout on the trip. Further information may be obtained by calling Rayburn or Don Theiss.

Theiss, training chairman, said a scout leader training course will be held later this month.

James Laughlin, finance chairman, reported on the independent finance drives in the area.

Snow said district scouts planning to attend a training institute at Kent State University are to make application by Sunday.

Frank Rossi, district vice chairman, reported on the Explorer Ball set for May 10 at the Country Club.

Fred Yonz, assistant district commissioner, said commissioner service is to be expanded.

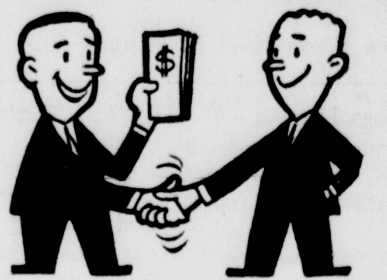

Robert Gray, district executive, asked the chairmen to recruit more men to strengthen their committees. Sixty units are served by the district committee and commissioner staff.

Vocal Group Airs Plans On Quartet Show

Reports of the stage committee for the forthcoming parade were heard at the meeting of the East Liverpool SPEBSQSA Chapter Monday night in the Elks Club Ballroom. About 25 attended.

Bill Thomas, chairman, said the committee, and others free to help, will meet Saturday to work on the equipment needed for the show March 30-31 at Westgate School.

Don Schussler, parade chairman, announced the talent budget is the highest of any of the 13 preceding shows. The five participating quartets are capable of providing a complete show by themselves. The featured quartets, the Sun Tones, has the reputation of being the most outstanding quartet in the 25-year history of barbershopping, and the Chordblenders, one of the finest in show business.

Dick Smith, ticket chairman, announced that the remaining tickets are on sale at the Robins & Sant store and good seats are available for the Sunday afternoon performance.

Glenn Woods, director, reported on the finale, adding it would be in keeping with the Easter season. He conducted a practice session.

Glenn Hart, president, presided. Thomas reported on a bill that was introduced in Congress, proclaiming April 15-21 as National Barbershop Harmony Week. This year marks the silver anniversary of the inception of the group in 1938 in Tulsa, Okla. Members signed a copy which was sent to Rep. Wayne Hays in Washington.

A session of "Barbershop Promotion" was held with the Colonials Quartet assisting "The Sing Alongers" of East Liverpool High School directed by Miss Arletta Helfrich, music supervisor.

Sam Wolfe, treasurer, announced that March 31 is the deadline for dues payment and only paid-up members are entitled to appear on the show.

Tom Baker, a former member, was a guest. Next meeting is Monday.

Salvation Army Girls Conduct Sale Of Candy

The Girl Guards and Sunbeams of the Salvation Army are conducting their fourth annual candy sale in East Liverpool this week, according to Maj. William F. Hathorn, commanding officer.

About 25 girls in their uniforms of gray will make house calls, visit transportation terminals and businesses for the sale.

The Girl Guard movement is The Salvation Army international organization for girls between 10 and 18, founded in England in 1915 and inaugurated the following year in the United States. The Sunbeams, the younger sister organization for girls between 6 and 10, have been steadily growing since its beginning in 1916.

Today, there are more than 1300 active Guard and Sunbeam troops in the United States, Maj. Hathorn said.

The purpose of the organization is to instill in girls a love for God and country, to build sound character and healthy bodies and to teach them to help others in the true spirit of service, he said.

The current candy sale will help to maintain this program locally. Any profit from the sale is used exclusively for troop equipment, campships, annual trips or the purchase of the familiar gray and red uniforms.

Snow Clearing Costs $4,000 For 2 Months

Repeated heavy snows cost the city $4,000 additional for street department payroll expenses in January and February, compared with the first two months of 1962, Council was told Monday night.

The report was given by Councilman Robert W. Sample Jr., a member of the finance committee, acting for Councilman George E. Willshaw, chairman, who was absent.

"The payroll expense of the street department is up $2,000 for each of the two months, compared with 1962, because of weather conditions," Sample reported.

Wisconsin's Institute of Paper Chemistry has developed a glossy printing paper from the thread-like filaments of fungi.

County Jail Receives 44 More In February

LISBON—Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan reported today a total of 44 prisoners were received at the County Jail during February, in addition to the 33 already confined as of Feb. 1.

Fifty prisoners were released during the month, three were conveyed to state institutions and four mental patients were taken to state hospitals. There were 122 visitors at the jail during the month.

A total of 2,825 meals were served at the jail at a cost of $834.95, making the average daily expense per prisoner 87 cents.

Sheriff VanFossan reported 225 papers were served and 4,478 radio transmissions were handled, along with 1,101 phone calls at the jail. The sheriff's office in the Courthouse accepted seven sets of fox feet and ears for bounty during the month. Fees totaling $749.59 were collected.

Ceramists To Confer Annual Award Friday

An East Liverpool district delegation is scheduled to attend a dinner meeting of the Pittsburgh Section of the American Ceramic Society Friday night, marking presentation of the annual Albert Victor Bleiminger Memorial Award for "distinguished achievement in the field of Ceramics."

Traffic Jam In Steel Buying Due May, June

NEW YORK (AP)—A traffic jam of buyers at steel mills in May and June was foreseen today by Iron Age.

That is, the metalworking weekly said, if the present pattern of ordering for inventory build-up continues to develop.

The magazine said many steel users are sitting on the fence, still undecided on when to start stockpiling against possible mill shutdowns caused by labor-management conflict.

"Steel users will add about one million tons of steel to their inventories in April . . . but there still is no real surge to build steel stocks," Iron Age said.

Mill production rose again last week, chalking up its fifth consecutive gain and bringing output to nearly 70 per cent of capacity.

Tough Customers At St. Mary's

The Newell Vikings carry an outstanding 19-3 record into the Region tournament at St. Mary's Thursday night but it will be the worst mark among the four schools in the tourney.

As John Robison, the veteran Viking coach put it, "that's a rough tournament."

Williamstown, the defending Class A state champion, which will be Newell's opponent Thursday night at 7:30, has a 21-1 record while Cameron boasts a 20-1 mark and Paden City claims a 21-1 slate.

CAMERON and Paden City meet in the other bracket on Friday with the finals scheduled Saturday night.

Newell will have its work cut out for it since Williamstown appears as strong this season as a year ago when the Yellowjackets went all the way to snare the state crown.

TWO REGULARS are back from the championship squad including all-stater Doug Stanley a 6-foot cager, who is hitting the hoops this season for a 21.9 average. His running mate is Bruce Schnebel, 6-1, who carries a 16.3 average.

And for height, Williamstown will put on the floor, the tallest

THE OTHER starters are Jim Strum 5-9 and Tom McIntyre 6-foot.

Echols Jeffries is in his first year as head coach at Williamstown replacing Jim Carpenter, who guided the Yellowjackets to the state title last year and now is coaching in Florida.

NEWELL, which depends on balance, with the five starters usually hitting in the double figures, will open with Sam Simmons, Fred Ferrell, Tom Franczek, Terry Robinson and Jim Johnson. Ferrell is the only senior on the starting five.

The Vikings gained the Region berth by dumping Bethany and New Cumberland last week at Follansbee.

Midland Seeking Semi-Final Spot

With the WPIAL race wide open, now that the king—Uniontown—is dethroned, Midland is among five teams which remain alive in the tournament at the Pitt Fieldhouse.

Coach Hank Kuzma's Leopards, which survived its opening round test with a 55-40 decision over Springdale, battles ex-Midlander Dick Black's Mt. Lebanon team tonight at 8 p.m. in the Fieldhouse.

The winner will be awarded a spot in the semi-finals Saturday, meeting Aliquippa, the Section 3 king. Black has already stepped to the front once with his Mt. Lebanon team. The Blue Devils won the 1961 WPIAL title.

Mt. Lebanon of Section 4 enters tonight's game with a 19-3 record. Kuzma's team has a better mark of 21-2 but one of those losses came at the hands of Aliquippa.

The semi-final game in the other bracket is scheduled Friday while the championship contest will be played Tuesday in the Civic Arena.

A small comparison between the two teams can be made since Mt. Lebanon defeated Springdale in an exhibition game, 66-62.

Toronto Rips JU, 64-32, To Advance In Sectional

TORONTO — Only 300 fans were on hand to see Toronto hold Jefferson Union to one field goal in the first half then go on to a lopsided 64-32 victory in the Sectional Class AA tournament here Tuesday night.

The victory puts Coach Paul Kahvoda's Red Knights into a semi-final match with favored Steubenville Big Red Thursday night at 8.

After taking a 15-1 first quarter lead, Toronto piled up a 28-5 half-time margin and was on top 47-15 after three periods.

Junior Tom Coulter, Toronto's all-state candidate, fired in 18 points to pace, the Red Knights while Ken Young added 10.

Keith Dickinson and Ron Johnston shared honors for Jefferson Union with nine each.

Chester opens the Section AA tournament tonight a definite underdog facing Follansbee, a team which has defeated the Panthers twice this season.

The contest to be played on the Follansbee floor is set for 8:30. In the first meeting between the two schools at Follansbee, the Blue Wave registered a 72-32 victory. A later meeting at Chester two weeks ago found the Panthers coming much closer before dropping a 56-42 contest.

Coach Dom Amodeo's team enters the tournament with a 6-12 season record.

Breaks Up Court Fight

Chamberlain Is Referee For Brawl In NBA Game

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK (AP) — Wilt the Stilt is Wilt the Peacemaker today and if that's peace, a couple of bruised fellows named Bailey Howell and Walter Dukes want no part of it.

Wilt Chamberlain, the 7-foot-1, 250-pound scoring machine of the San Francisco Warriors, turned peacemaker according to all on-the-spot battleground testimony during a brawling National Basketball Association game between the Pistons at Madison Square Garden Tuesday night.

He played it like a barroom bouncer, tossing 6-foot-7 Howell halfway across the court and throwing Dukes, a 7-footer, into a group of fans at the sidelines.

"I thought he was fighting," said Dave DeBusschere of the Pistons. "But then I realized he broke it up," he added, referring to the fight, not to the section of the Garden floor where Howell and Dukes landed.

"He was a real peacemaker out there," said Detroit's Ray Scott in admiration.

The fight began in the closing seconds of the third quarter of the game between two teams battling for the third and last playoff berth in the league's Western Division. Although the Warriors and Wilt might have won the fight, the Pistons won the game 111-102 and took a one-length lead over San Francisco. Detroit has five games left; San Francisco, seven.

The trouble was triggered by Al Attles of San Francisco, a close buddy of Chamberlain's, and Bob Ferry of Detroit, who lost a mid-court points decision to Chamberlain in a fight in San Francisco earlier this season. Ferry grabbed Attles or Attles tackled Ferry, depending on which one you talked to.

Both agreed that Attles flipped Ferry over his shoulder, and jumped on him.

Enter the hero, the same Chamberlain who usually gets tabbed as the villain whether he's scoring 60 points or barking at the referees.

In the other NBA fights,—Er, games, Syracuse clinched second place in the Eastern Division, whipping the New York Knicks 131-121 in the second game of the Garden doubleheader behind 31 points from Hal Greer and 26 from John Kerr, and Chicago whipped St. Louis at Chicago 116-93 as Walt Bellamy scored 27 points and Terry Dischinger 24. The Hawks played without Bob Pettit, who had influenza.

6 Conference Berths Open As Battles Rage For NCAA

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
There are six pieces left in college basketball's post-season pie—with 12 teams still looking for a cut.

Six conference berths remain open in the NCAA tournament with two clubs in each league in the running for the coast-to-coast extravaganza. Already set for the national tourney are nine conference entries and the 10 at-large selections.

In Tuesday night's developments Yale grabbed a share of the Ivy League lead with an 80-76 overtime victory at Harvard, Santa Clara went ahead in the West Coast Athletic Conference by winning at home against University of Pacific 79-62, and East Tennessee was knocked out of the Ohio Valley scramble, losing at Middle Tennessee 50-57.

Here is the picture of the six races:

IVY LEAGUE—Yale finished at 11-3, matching Princeton, and the two teams will play off at Fordham's gym in New York Friday night for the NCAA spot.

WCAC—Santa Clara now is 9-2 and San Francisco 8-2, with these two having a showdown Saturday night at San Francisco. Prior to taking on Santa Clara, the Dons have a home game tonight with San Jose State.

OHIO VALLEY—With East Tennessee out of it, Morehead and Tennessee Tech are left alone at the top with 8-4 records. The co-champions will have a playoff, the conference's fourth in the past eight years.

BIG TEN—Ohio State in the lead at 11-2 with Illinois next at 10-3. The Buckeyes finish at Indiana and the Illini entertain Iowa, both games Saturday afternoon.

BIG EIGHT—Kansas State and Colorado will settle this one Saturday night on K-State's floor. The Wildcats now are 11-2 and the Buffaloes are 10-3, but if Colorado wins the showdown it will get the NCAA trip since it beat K-State in their other regular season game.

BIG SIX—Stanford has clinched a tie at 7-3 but UCLA, 5-5, has a mathematical chance. They'll meet Friday night at UCLA, then the UCLANS are at home against California Saturday while Stanford closes at Southern California.

Providence, 10th ranked nationally and headed for the National Invitation Tournament, romped to its 11th straight victory, winning at Fairfield 85-65.

Baylor snapped Texas' winning string at 14 games and ruined the Longhorns' drive for a perfect Southwest Conference record in a 55-48 upset at Waco, Texas finished with a 13-1 conference mark.

In other Tuesday night games—Rice 73, Texas A&M 70; Arkansas 104, Texas Christian 94; Southern Methodist 88, Texas Tech 87; Oklahoma 70, Oklahoma State 65; Syracuse 100, Coigate 78; Pepperdine 73, Loyola of Los Angeles 55.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Lots Of Wrong Guesses

For an industry always claiming it gives the people what they want, television has come up with a remarkably high number of casualties this season. At least 40 of network TV's current crop of weekly night time shows will be dropped by summer.

About half of this number were series Hal Humphrey which made their debuts last fall. Most of that latter lot were dogs which deserved to die, because they were cheap imitations of established hits. Even some which should have been scuttled were saved.

EITHER the network couldn't find a replacement it liked, or too much of its own money was sunk into the project to dump it. CBS' "The Nurses" is an example. The series never has reached a 20 Nielsen rating, and in the network world anything below a 20 is considered fodder for next season's daytime reruns.

But "The Nurses" is due back next season, a fact which must make the producers of the canceled shows at CBS want to cut their throats.

Because it is such a buyers' market for the networks this year, they already virtually have set their program schedules for next season.

"THE NETWORKS are a dictatorship," complains one independent producer after returning from New York. "You can't even make an appointment with them. I had a sponsor interested in my show, but his ad agency couldn't get into a network to screen it."

"It's our own fault," said another Hollywood TV film producer. "We never should have begun offering the networks a piece of our shows in return for better time slots. When we started that, it was like giving raw meat to a tiger."

With profits at an all-time high, the fat-cat networks can afford to go into next season with their own shows, or in partnership with the producers. If the season should bomb, they can fire their top program execs and begin smiling again at the independent producers and sponsors.

MEANWHILE, the happy networks are wheeling and dealing like a faro dealer at a mining camp where the mother lode has been struck. When they hit a night where the competition for time spots boils down to a choice between two shows both controlled by the network, they call in the audience research boys with their testing machinery.

A guinea pig audience is put into a projection room and virtually wired for sound, like a patient having an electrocardiogram. The "test scores" from these various types of audience reaction soundings are sent upstairs to the brass, who make the big decision.

With such a cold, mercenary jockeying by the networks nabobs, one easily can understand why quality and originality so rarely become factors in determining a network program lineup.

A FEW big-name stars are about the only so-called independent producers who can put the muscle to the networks under today's system of operation.

A couple of years ago, when Jack Benny was being romanced by all three networks at contract time, he resigned with CBS. It so happened that CBS also bought a series called "Checkmate" at the same time, and it was produced by Benny's J&M company.

Next fall, Danny Thomas' company will have six shows on TV, including a new one starring Bill Dana as a waiter. Since Danny's own series and his "Andy Griffith Show" are among the Nielsen top 10, Danny has no trouble seeing the network brass when he has a problem at either NBC or CBS, where his shows ride.

DESPITE ALL of this wheeling and dealing, however, the networks racked up a sad score when one counts up the casualties. Or, maybe it was because of it, eh fellows?

Some day you ought to look at the shows owned by the little guys standing in the wings. Maybe they've got better ideas and have stood there long enough to be ripe for a 50-50 deal.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Do-It-Yourself Course Offered Overweights

Once you make up your mind to reduce and this decision is reinforced by the deep inner conviction that you can succeed, you are well on your way to healthy normal weight. Why? Because you have come to grips with your problem and all the forces of your personality are brought to bear on seeing it through.

Before reaching this conclusion, you usually take the course of least resistance and try all the seemingly easy ways to deal with poundage. Does the following letter have a familiar ring?

"I've tried for four years to reduce. I've tried pills, liquid diets, starvation diets, but always go back to overeating and end up gaining all I lost and a few more pounds besides. The more I worry about my overweight, the more I eat!"

"RECENTLY I tried to buy a new dress and found I looked downright matronly — at the age of 28! That did it. I made up my mind to follow a scientific reducing plan and get down to normal weight and stay there."

"I am 5 feet 3 and weigh 163 pounds. I have a large frame and feel my best at 120 pounds. I'll report my progress."

Good! The shopping trip gave her the needed jolt. This young woman now recognizes that it is up to her, and that no one can reduce for her. She is eager and determined to eat to beat the pounds.

Once you have made up your mind to reduce, what course of action is most effective? A well balanced diet, high in protein and limited to between 1,000 and 1,150 calories, is your best bet. Protein with each meal will keep you from feeling hungry. By keeping count of the calories, you have an exact measure of the fuel intake that induces a weight loss of 1½ to 2 pounds each week.

It is most helpful to allocate more than half the calories to the active part of the day — 200 to 250 for breakfast; 300 to 350 for lunch; 100 calories for a late afternoon pick-up; and 400 to 450 calories for dinner.

Have your meals at regular hours. Not only does this plan give purpose to the day but regularity in meal time trains your appetite. And learn to eat more slowly and you will get unexpected enjoyment from your meals.

YOU GIVE yourself the chance to really taste and savor food for its delicious flavor.

Don't overlook the value of a little exercise. You want to wind up your reducing course slim and shapely. Because toned muscles rebuff fat, exercise is indispensable to streamlining.

More than $3,000 was contributed to the Heart Fund in Weirton and Hancock County during the annual Heart Month campaign in February, Luke Wilson, general chairman, said today.

The total of $3,141.57 is about $1,400 more than was contributed last year.

All the money collected will be used by the American Heart Association and its state affiliates to combat heart disease. More than 75 million Heart Fund dollars have gone into research in the last 15 years and the Heart Fund also supports programs of education and community service.

Rogers Group To Meet

ROGERS — Plans for a bake sale and rummage sale are to be aired at a meeting of the Mothers Club Thursday afternoon at 1:30 at the Rogers School with Mrs. Evelyn Todd, president, in charge.

Business Division Begins Canvass For Red Cross

Volunteers in the Business Division of the local Red Cross fund drive today began a canvass of 400 or more business establishments in the East Liverpool area.

Working toward a division quota of $5,800, the unit is expected to complete its rounds within a three-week period, with an interim report date set for March 20 and final reports due by the 31.

The total campaign goal is $16,084.

Working instructions, area assignments and reporting dates were outlined at last night's meeting for area and section captains by Donald Honicky, commercial manager of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co., who is serving as chairman of the division.

Honicky, who will be aided in his duties by Walter Kimbro, first vice campaign chairman, explained that the businesses of the city have been divided into six classifications, with area and section captains assigned to each. Solicitors' kits and pledge cards already have been issued to most of the volunteers recruited by the various captains.

Volunteers heading up the various units include: James Allison (Financial Institutions), Jack Chapman (Insurance Companies), Dale Keddie (East End Businesses), Christ Pallas (Filling Stations), Sanders Firestone (Taverns), Alton Weber (Utilities and Government Offices) and Vincent LaNeve (Downtown and Suburban Businesses).

Aiding Weber in the utilities unit are section captains George Hargraves (Schools Staff), Rowland Kaufman (Postal Employees), Miss Mary A. Lemal and Mrs. Mildred McKim (phone company employees). Fred Kane (City Offices), Donald Baxter (Ohio Power employees) and Harold Sneddon (Ohio Valley Gas employees).

The downtown and suburban business unit is the largest within this campaign division.

Each of the following section captains will recruit additional needed workers to canvass each firm: Paul Seckman, Paul Grafton, Philip Fuhrer, Terry Deiderick, Glenn McGaffie, Dale Kidd, Joseph Winters, David Kennedy, Donald Mackey, Ray Elliott, Lonnie Bemis, Russell Brown, David Dailey, Kenneth Lane, Ronald Garland, Charles Verdin, James McKinnon, Richard Shawke, Edward McLain, Kelsey Hendricks, Carl Pelini, Ralph Compas, John Boch, Robert Spratley, Mrs. Glenn McGaffie, Edward Shingler, Robert Brooks, William Kyle, Jack Bradley and Steve Adamowski.

As the division prepared to begin its work, Chairman Frank Potts urged the volunteers to greater efforts this year, saying, "We all realize that Red Cross reaches around the world, but it begins at home in this community. Our volunteer workers give freely of their time and skill to provide training in first aid, water safety and home nursing. You'll find them helping in hospitals and other community institutions. They work at chapter headquarters, serve with disaster strikes. But to do all these jobs they need the backing and support of the public during this campaign. Each of us working on this campaign must be sure that every resident has an opportunity to give."

The Business Division's solicitation is the third step in the local drive. A letter, seeking gifts from area organizations, led the activities and the Special Gifts Division began its calls on some 200 larger donors last week.

Ever add diced bananas to cole slaw? Delightful flavor! But choose ripe firm bananas and douse with orange or pineapple juice or French dressing before adding.

Rep. Powell To Face Test On Expenses

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Adam Clayton Powell's popularity with his colleagues faces a severe test today in the House.

The New York Democrat, chairman of the Education and Labor Committee, has been sharply criticized for his extensive travels on "official business" and for the heavy expenses of his committee.

A House Administration subcommittee took official cognizance of the criticism Monday by slashing the budget for Powell's committee from $697,000 for a two-year period to $200,000 for 1963.

The recommended cut will be acted on by the House under procedure making it extremely difficult to alter the subcommittee's action.

The Administration subcommittee acted after a committee colleague of Powell's, Rep. Phil Landrum, D-Ga., called Powell's request for $202,000 for an investigative task force "a shrewdly calculated patronage grab." The subcommittee rejected the entire allotment.

Landrum said the budget requested by Powell was "outrageously high" and should be trimmed to $322,000 for two years.

In the two years of the last Congress, the Labor Committee was given $633,000.

House action on Powell's budget originally had been scheduled for Thursday, and the committee's defenders, led by Rep. James Roosevelt, D-Calif., had arranged for a two-hour speaking period at the close of today's business to counter some of the criticism.

Reportedly at the instigation of the House leadership, anxious to avert a possible major floor flare-up, the vote on the budget was moved up to today.

Scholarship Due Teacher

The Hancock County Conservation Committee Tuesday night voted to provide a $130 scholarship for a county school teacher to attend conservation education workshop this summer at West Virginia University.

The committee met in the Agricultural Office in New Cumberland with Clarence Deeds, chairman, presiding.

Plans were discussed to post a sign near the junction of Route 30 and State Route 2 near Chester calling attention to a "woodland demonstration." A stand of oak was planted in a pasture field five years ago, along with other trees, and the sign will call attention to the contrasting areas of growth.

Several members indicated interest in attending the centennial conservation education meeting April 3 in Charleston.

Theme of "Natural Resource" was selected for the annual conservation camp to be held this summer at Tomlinson Run State Park. The dates will be announced later.

Next meeting is April 9.

City Realtors Discuss Scholarship Awards

Further discussion was held at the awarding of three scholarship at a meeting of the East Liverpool Board of Realtors Tuesday night at the Travelers Hotel.

The board will present $150 scholarships to students from East Liverpool, Beaver Local and Wellsville High Schools.

Letters will be sent the superintendents announcing the scholarships.

Glenn Wilson, vice president presided in the absence of Mel M. McSwegin, president. Next meeting is April 2.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: Since you came up with the suggestion of making meatloaf in fruit juice cans, I would like to tell you how I expanded on the idea:

I never bake a boxed cake in lather pans anymore.

I now use tomato cans, vegetable cans, even coffee cans. The small-size cakes, individual tiny cakes, etc., can be cooled and put into the deep freeze anytime of the day or night!

You are exactly right when you said never make just one cake at a time. I found that I can always make enough for two cakes at a time, pour in the batter and load down my deep freeze with these darlings.

When the time comes that I am too tired (but still want cake) all I have to do is... remove that old tin can full of delicacies from my deep freeze, let it thaw and ice it.

The icing requires little effort. It is the original making of the batter that dirties my kitchen.

Another thing... if you do not have time to make icing—cream, synthetic whipped cream or fruits may be placed on top of the cake and it's called a fancy desert these days!

JANE WILLIAMS

Hint On Hinges

DEAR HELOISE: Here is something I learned from my husband.

In every household, door hinges have a habit of working loose.

We just remove the screw, insert part of a toothpick into the hole, and then replace the screw.

For large screws we use the bottom end of a kitchen match. It works like a charm and replaces the shrinking, or wear, the wood has undergone. All one needs is a good screwdriver!

ELLA M. HEHR

DEAR HELOISE: I remove match scratches on dark wood by heating a little olive oil and dipping cotton in it. By rubbing the scratch with this it will completely disappear.

ANNA PULASKI

DEAR HELOISE: Can you tell me how to remove ink stains from doctors' white nylon jackets—the kind they wear in their offices?

MRS. HARRY STONE

You failed to state if the ink was ball point or regular ink.

Have you tried plain rubbing alcohol?

If not, try it. First douse two wash rags with some rubbing alcohol. Hold one rag underneath the stained spot and rub the top part of the material with the other... turning the bottom rag as the stain appears on it.

Another method which works on some types of stains is to leave it in buttermilk overnight. Soak the material in this and wash as usual.

HELOISE

Gift Stockpile

DEAR HELOISE: Having four children, we also have dozens of birthday gifts to purchase for all of the invitations they receive.

I now buy a half-dozen gifts at a time (usually at sales), and when a party comes up my children can choose an appropriate toy from our immediate supply. This saves me not only at least 50 cents but about 30 minutes of my time.

MRS. KAY FULTON

DEAR HELOISE: Here is one: When you buy sugar put it in an old coffee pot. You can pour this any time you need it without any spilling!

RITA MELVILLE

DEAR HELOISE: For people who do not have enough fitted sheets to cover all their mattresses they might try my method. I put a blanket sheet (even an old one will do) under the bottom sheet before tucking the sheet under the mattress.

I find that this holds the sheet much better than just placing it directly over a mattress and pad.

MRS. J. HORALEK

Junior Editors Quiz on

QUESTION: Why is Vincent Van Gogh's painting so famous?

ANSWER: Van Gogh was a Dutch artist, born in 1853, who fell under the influence of a group of French painters using light, gay, outdoor colors. He began to paint with even more fiery and brilliant colors as well as with swirling, agitated brush strokes. But the picture buyers of the time found these paintings too strange to suit their taste. He tried hard to sell his pictures, failed completely, and went on painting for the love of it. When he settled in the southern French town of Arles, his paintings became so brilliant they almost burst into flame. Many people feel that since Van Gogh had to be taken to a hospital several times his pictures should be regarded as the work of a lunatic. Most feel that his illnesses had little to do with the beauty of his work. They regard the rhythmic forms and sparkling colors in his pictures as adding an extra sense of the fun and excitement of being alive; and it is this point of view which has made Van Gogh's painting so much appreciated today.

FOR YOU TO DO: Compare whirling lines of galaxy with Van Gogh lines directly above and see if you can find a connection. Make some swirling lines like this with a pencil and see if it isn't fun.

(Julie Cole of Richland, Wash., wins $10 for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review and you may win $10, or the weekly grand prize of a set of Britannica Junior Encyclopedias.)

hilating a band of nearly 200 gallant Texans.

between British and German infantry during the World War II took place on the French frontier.
In 1945, the U.S. 1st Army captured the German city of Cologne during World War II.

Damage Case Verdict Due

A verdict is expected today in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon in a $110,000 civil action filed by a Rogers father and son as an aftermath of an alleged car-truck collision Sept. 25, 1959, on the Clark-son-Rogers Rd.

The suit was filed by George Leonard Barnhouse, 20, and his father, Dale Barnhouse, 40, of Rogers, naming as defendant Donald Henderson, 24, of East Liverpool R. D. 1, formerly of Rogers.

The trial began Tuesday morning before Judge Raymond S. Buzzard. The Barnhouse youth alleges Henderson's truck crossed the center line and hit his vehicle. Henderson alleges his vehicle was on the berm and there was no collision between the two. The youth seeks $100,000 and his father sued for $10,000 for expenses and damages.

Juniors are:

Albert Pittenger, Doris Dailey, Marjorie Reed, Nancy Forsythe, Luella Boone and Mary Bulger of East Liverpool; Noreen Bailey, Lillian Washington and Marie Deen of Salem; William Hanlon of Wellsville; Wanda Shaw of Lisbon and Ruth Weikert of Leetonia. Ross Tisher of East Liverpool is alternate.

Empire Motorist Cited For Crash

An Empire motorist was cited for a traffic violation after two accidents reported Tuesday afternoon by Wellsville police.

Officers said a car driven by William C. Ward of Empire side-swiped one driven by Freda Schuber, 957 Main St., Wellsville, at 17th St. and Clark Ave. at 3:50 p. m.

Ward was headed west, went left of center and hit the other car, officers said. He was cited for driving left of center.

A tractor-trailer truck driven by Ralph L. Johnson of Toledo struck the left front door of a car operated by Thurman Todd of Lisbon at 6th and Main Sts. at 1:50 p. m.

Police said Todd opened the door into the path of the truck.
